

CANON

FIND THE RIGHT TRIPOD

WHAT TYPE OF PHOTOGRAPHER ARE YOU?

I'm a jetsetter

Portability is my priority, and I'm looking for a tripod that fits vertically in my carry-on bag.

I love nature and the outdoors

I shoot panoramic and close-ups that require exactly the same framing and precision.

I capture the unpredictable and fast-moving

I shoot objects in motion and at times using difficult (hand-held) angles.

I shoot mainly products for my clients

I need a strong, sturdy, and heavy tripod for my commercial shoots.

After identifying the genre of photography that interests you, consider the following types of tripods:

Travel

Compact yet light enough to anchor for long exposures or amateur videos

Pocket

Best for group shots and for use with small, light cameras

Monopod

Best for sports and wildlife photographers who need flexibility with some stability

Studio

Sturdy and best for medium- and large-format cameras
